

Television Personality ~ Author ~ Public Speaker ~ Real Estate Agent
~ Home Staging Consultant

Most people know Terry for her long running role on HGTV's hit show "Designed to Sell." As one of the shows featured real estate agents, Terry guided millions of viewers on how staging a home and making low cost improvements can help to sell a property at top dollar.

With over 20 years in the industry, Terry's knowledge of the Real Estate market and various clientele on a local and national level puts her customers at ease. Her technique and professionalism guides them through what can often be an overwhelming process.

Her keen eye assures her clients will get the best price for their home, work through the (sometimes) daunting process of selling a property and bringing the deal to the table. This knowledge has brought her recognition in the Real Estate community as a National Expert, respected colleague and keynote speaker for various industry communities. She is extremely well known for her networking and creative business techniques to make a project successful.

Now living in Charleston, S.C with her husband, Tim and two young sons, Terry has her own real estate sales and home-staging consulting businesses. www.Riverlandingteam.com.

She offers clients insight into the ways they can transform their homes into "stand out" properties in an ever-changing market.

Terry has also co-written an e-book that offers tips and tools to help sellers prepare a house for sale. The insightful E-book can be downloaded at www.Makeeverybuyerwantyourhouse.com.

Terry spends a good deal of her time sharing her real estate, home staging and networking expertise, as a featured speaker for realtor associations, professional and community groups, and other philanthropic organizations. She is respected by the clients she helps, her peers in the real estate community and the network of professionals whom she works together with on a multitude of levels.
