Mission Statement

The Charleston Home Builders Association supports the local building community and works to promote home ownership in the Lowcountry.

About the Charleston Home Builders Association (CHBA)

Since 1959, the Charleston Home Builders Association (CHBA) has served as the leading non-profit organization dedicated to the future of the Lowcountry, encouraging growth and development within four counties – Charleston, Dorchester, Berkeley and Colleton. The CHBA works with organizations, including government, to promote and protect homeownership.

The association continues to provide members with the ability to ethically and efficiently provide local communities with safe, quality and affordable housing. CHBA members consist of residential contractors, remodelers and developers, in addition to members representing all professions that support the homebuilding industry. The CHBA is affiliated with the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) and the Home Builders Association of South Carolina.

Code of Ethics

- Members shall constantly seek to provide better values for the customers they serve.
- Members shall always share their knowledge with fellow members and the public in the best interest of those they serve.
- Members shall not obtain any business by means of fraudulent statements or by use of implications unwarranted by fact or reasonable probability.
- Members shall comply, both in spirit and letter, with rules and regulations prescribed by law and government agencies for health, safety and progress of the community.
- Members shall not perform or cause to be performed any act which would tend to reflect on or bring into disrepute any part of the industry served by this Association.
